COMMUNIQUÉ

The United States Embassy reiterates, once more, its committed support to the constitutional and democratic process and to the government of President Carlos Mesa until the completion of his term of office in August 2007.

The United States Embassy categorically denies the contents of the article published in La Republica newspaper of Peru.

Since President Mesa assumed leadership of the government of Bolivia, the United States has demonstrated its support not only through economic assistance, but also through frequent visits of U.S. government and congressional authorities to Bolivia, aimed at personally expressing our support for President Mesa.
